The Pillars

Five key pillars of the Neighbourhood Policing Guarantee

Police back on the beat

A neighbourhood policing team in every local area, carrying out intelligence-led and visible patrols, including in town centres and on high streets. Forces will be held to account for ensuring neighbourhood policing teams are protected, so they remain focused on serving communities.

01

Community-led policing

A named, contactable officer for every neighbourhood, responsive to local problems. Residents and local businesses will be able to have their say on the police's priorities for their area.

02

Professionalism

A new neighbourhood policing career pathway will provide new training for officers, and standards for professional excellence will ensure neighbourhood policing is developed as a specialist policing capability.

03

Crackdown on ASB

Neighbourhood policing teams will have tougher powers and, supported by other agencies, tackle persistent anti-social behaviour (ASB). This includes piloting the new 'Respect Order' to enable swift enforcement against prolific offenders and a dedicated lead officer in every force working with communities to develop a local ASB action plan.

04

Safer town centres

Neighbourhood policing teams will crack down on shop theft, street theft, and assaults against retail workers, so local people can take back their streets from thugs and thieves.

05

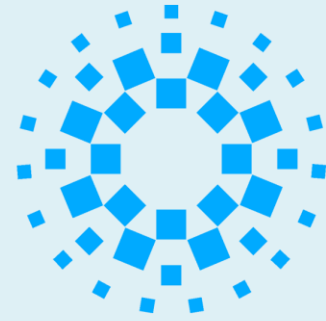

Sixth pillar

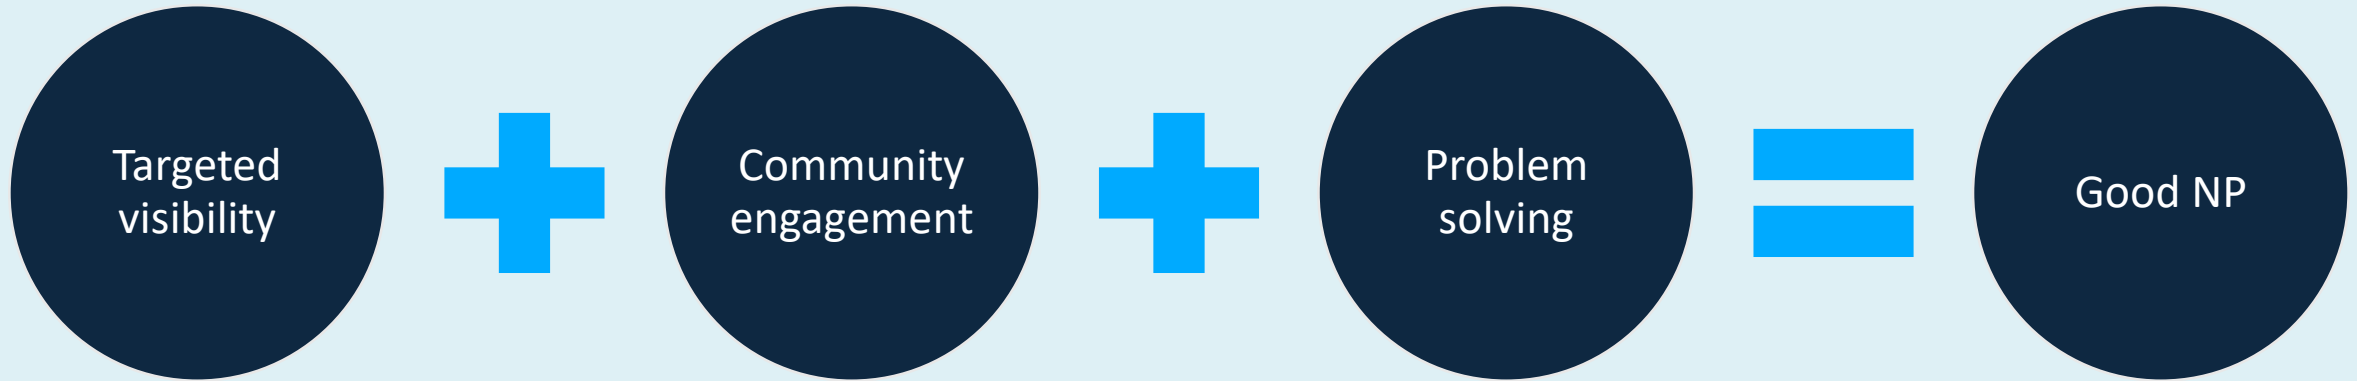

Volunteering in policing

Volunteers in policing have a key role in helping forces to build community cohesion whilst growing operational capacity. There is an aspiration to grow special constabulary numbers significantly.

VISIBILITY

ABSTRACTION

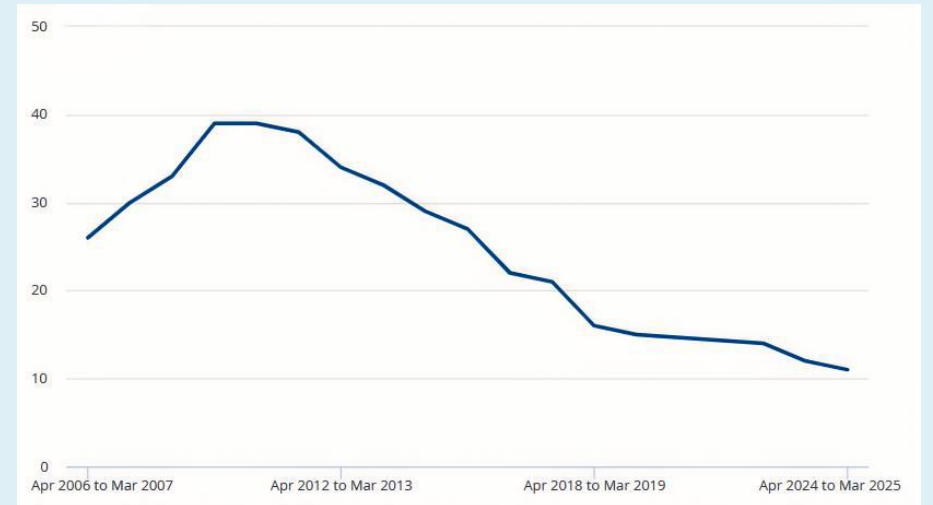

VISIBILITY

So what is the problem?

The Crime Survey for England and Wales (CSEW) asks people aged 16 years and over how often they see police officers or police community support officers (PCSOs) on foot patrol in their local area (within about a 15-minute walk).

Around 1 in 9 respondents reported high police visibility (seeing officers or PCSOs on foot patrol in their local area once a week or more) in the year ending (YE) March 2025 survey (11%)
